Population Research Laboratory, Sociology Department, 1-62 Tory Building. Specialized research collection of census and local population materials. Not a lending library, but is open to students and faculty.

Visitor parking

Please note that there is no free parking on the University of Alberta campus between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, statutory holidays excluded, as the University has a policy of operating parking on a self-sustaining basis.
It is hoped that your stay on campus will be pleasant and that your parking needs will be met. We would appreciate hearing of any difficulties you experience.
Visitor parking is available in the carparks, at other areas so designated, and at meters. A daily charge is made at the time of entry to the carparks or designated areas. Rate and period of meter operation are as indicated on the meters.

Areas where parking is prohibited

Do not park in any of the following areas at any time:
- 24-hour reserved areas,
- University service vehicle stalls and unloading areas,
- marked fire routes or driveways,
- marked pedestrian areas,
- landscaped areas,
- areas marked as reserved for a specific purpose,

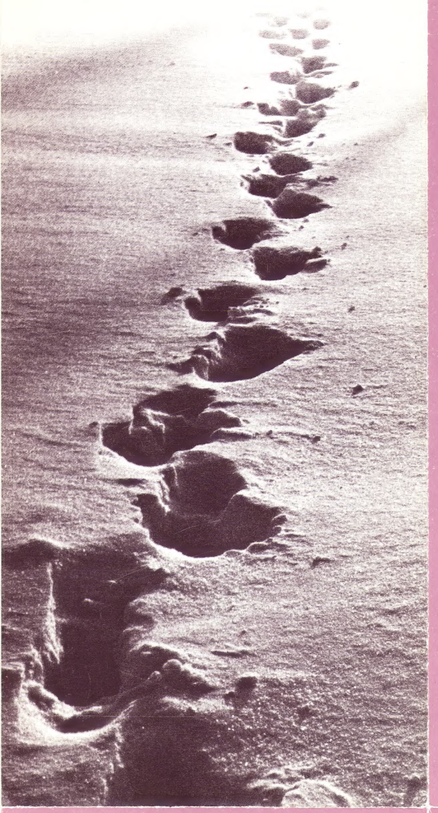
University Guide



The University of Alberta

Welcome to The University of Alberta. The oldest and largest of Alberta's four universities, The University of Alberta traces its history back to 1906 and the first legislative assembly of the province. During that session, legislation providing for a provincial university was passed and in 1908 the first University of Alberta classes were held.

The University of 1908 was a far cry from the University of the '80s. First President of the newly-created University was Henry Marshall Tory. He led the University for twenty years, through the excitement and rapid growth of the early days, and the sorrow and challenge of the war years. Under his leadership the University grew from its first year class of 45 students to nearly 1,500 by the time he retired in 1928.

Myer Horowitz is the ninth President of The University of Alberta. He leads a University whose growth continues steadily. Today, The University of Alberta is spread over nearly 200 acres. Eighteen faculties offer under-graduate and graduate courses to an estimated 30,000 full-time and part-time students each year. Faculty and support staff number in excess of 7,000.

1982-83 marked the 75th anniversary of The University of Alberta. The theme for the year-long celebration was "Scholarship and innovation: what we do affects you." While the celebrations are over, the University's commitment to learning and to the people of Alberta is stronger than ever.

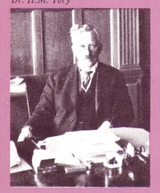
Campus Tours

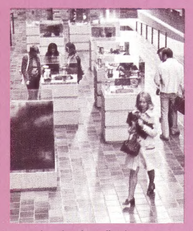
Throughout the year, the University welcomes requests for group tours of the campus and does its best to tailor tours to meet the group's special interests. In addition, each spring classes of pre-school and elementary school children are invited to take part in the very popular tours of the University Farm.

For information regarding campus tours, contact the Office of Community Relations, Room 423 Athabasca Hall, telephone 432-2325.

In laboratories across the campus, the University's commitment to fundamental and applied research is very much in evidence.

Dr. H.M. Tory





A meeting place for staff and students, Rutherford Galleria is a blend of the new and the old.

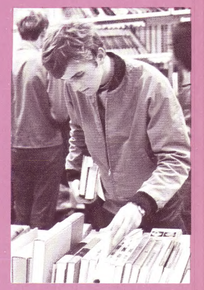
University Bookstore

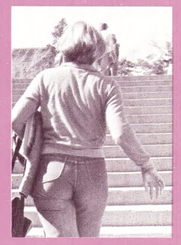
The two-floor University of Alberta Bookstore located in the Students' Union Building is one of the largest of its kind in Canada. The upper floor features stationery and other supplies, periodicals, sports equipment, and a wide variety of University of Alberta crested material. On the lower floor are texts required for University courses, other reference books, and general reading materials. In addition, the Green and Gold shop is now open on the lower floor.



Corbett Hall, housing the Faculty of Extension, defines the south-east corner of the campus.

Built in 1912, Athabasca Hall is the oldest building on the University campus.

More than 20,000 full-time students are currently enrolled at The University of Alberta.
Since its doors opened in 1908, close to 100,000 students have graduated from The University of Alberta.



Admissions Information

Information regarding entry to The University of Alberta and evaluation of previous study may be obtained by contacting the Admissions Policy, Evaluation and Liaison (APEL) Division of the Office of the Registrar, located on the main floor of the Administration Building.

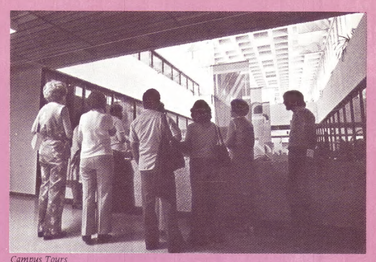
The Devonian Botanic Garden contains more than 25,000 plants and shrubs in a naturalistic setting.

The Tropical Display House is a highlight of the Agriculture/Forestry Centre.

Tropical Display House

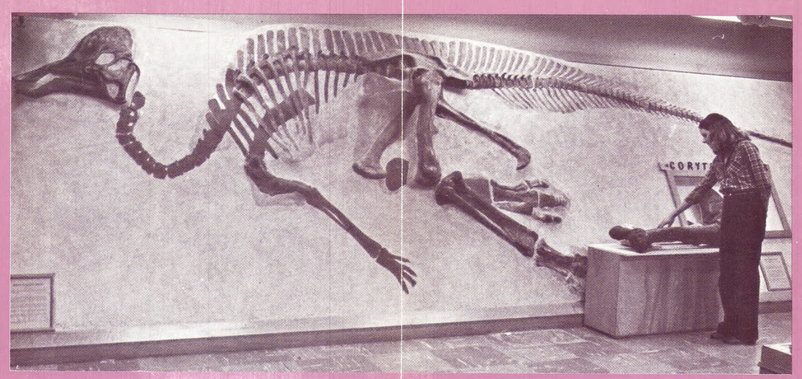
A taste of the tropics is offered at The University of Alberta by the Plant Science Tropical Display House, located in Room 216A of the Agriculture/Forestry Centre. Plants from all areas of the tropics combine to form a mini rain-forest and guides are available to identify the various species. The greenhouse is open to the public from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. weekdays and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays.



Campus Tours

The Universiade Pavilion, a legacy of the 1983 World University Games, provides a wide range of facilities to the University community and the community at large.

Studio Theatre, the oldest continuing theatre in Alberta, is a showcase for the Department of Drama.



The Ring House Gallery, home to University Collections.

Ring House Gallery

The Ring House Gallery normally features displays from the University's permanent collection and from exhibits travelling throughout Canada and the United States. Displays change monthly and the Gallery is normally open from noon to 4:30 p.m. Wednesdays and Fridays, noon to 6 p.m. Thursdays, and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays. More information can be obtained by calling the Gallery at 432-5834.

Geology Museums

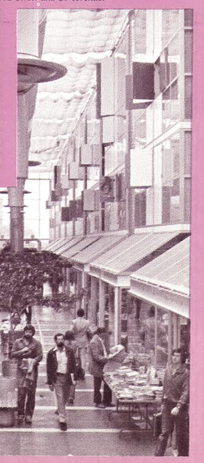
On the basement level of the Geology wing of the Earth Sciences Building are museums housing interesting collections of minerals, fossils, and rocks. The mineral, paleontology, and petrology collections are housed in Room 90, 81, and 75 respectively. These museums, maintained by the Department of Geology, are open to visitors from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

The Walter C. Mackenzie Health Sciences Centre provides for the successful integration of hospital facilities with the University's Faculty of Medicine.

The HUB

The HUB Housing and Shopping Complex, straddling 112 Street north of 89 Avenue, provides apartment-type housing for nearly 1,000 University students. Featuring a long, glass-covered shopping mall with a wide variety of specialty shops and eating places, HUB is a popular meeting place for staff, students, and University visitors.

HUB and the Fine Arts Centre meet at 112 Street and 89 Avenue.



More than 1,500 married students and their families make Michener Park their home.

Rutherford House

Alberta became a Canadian province on 1 September 1905; the following day, A.C. Rutherford became the Province's first premier. Dr. Rutherford was instrumental in the founding of the University, and in the northeastern corner of campus is located the house that was for many years his home. It is now a Provincial Historic Site.

The house is furnished in the style of the period 1911 to 1915 — the first years of Dr. Rutherford's residency — and visitors are welcome to tour inside; guides are in attendance. In the summer from the Victoria Day weekend to the Labour Day weekend, the house is open form 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. For the remainder of the year it is open only from noon until 6 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays, but group tours at other times can be organized by phoning 427-5708.
